FBI agents and SJCSO deputies attempted to make contact with the residence of the above-mentioned address. After several attempts to make contact with the residents, SJCSO observed an open door on the side of the house. Based on the circumstances that the subject of a mass school shooting lived at the residence, and that no answer to law enforcement presence was observed, SJCSO deputies and FBI agents concurred, that there existed a reasonable belief that the safety and welfare of the residents of [redacted] was at risk.

Agents and deputies made entry into the residence, and begun a security sweep of the residence. Agents and deputies eventually made contact with [redacted] and briefly detained her, unrestrained in the kitchen. Agents and deputies then cleared the remaining portion of the residence.
